The Cerrado Group Commitment

The Cerrado Group recognizes the importance of data security. A successful TPA firm must have controls and practices in place to ensure that any data held on its systems is protected and as such, we hold our members to a high standard when it comes to security protocols.

We have a practice management team devoted to best practices and have developed minimum standards that every member must meet. These standards include such things as business continuity plans, ongoing training, secure protocols with respect to working remotely, mobile device controls, proper data encryption policies, password protocols, and many more. Our approach ensures peace of mind for all parties we work with that their data is safe with us.
